Dear Juan:

I am writing this letter to confirm the understanding we have reached in our discussions, with respect to work that Arnold & Porter will perform on behalf of CEMAI during 1987.

You have asked that we work on CEMAI's behalf to support legislative or administrative actions by the U.S. Government that would have a constructive influence on Mexico's trade relationship with the United States, and to oppose action that would have an adverse impact. This activity would include monitoring developments in order to anticipate forthcoming actions. We would continue, on a more active basis, the program begun last year of working closely with the Trade and Fiscal Office of the Mexican Embassy to coordinate the efforts of allied Mexican and U.S. companies and trade groups. We would also, of course, seek to promote an understanding of the very important potential benefits for both the United States and Mexico to be achieved by improved economic relations between the two countries.

If specific trade disputes or complaints arise during the year, we will seek to inform you of them as early as possible and advise you with respect to their implications; however, the specific defense of such matters would normally require representation that goes beyond the scope of the services contemplated in this agreement.

CEMAI will establish a budget of $150,000 to pay for our services during 1987. The fee for our services will be based on the time required, calculated at our normal hourly rates. In the initial months we will send a statement each month for a retainer of $15,000. Payment would be made by the 10th of each month. The amounts received will be held in a retainer account, from which our actual fees will be deducted.

Since some months will require much greater effort than others, a surplus from some months will be carried forward for use later. However, if after a few months our fees are running substantially below the retainer, we will reduce the monthly retainer statements. Any retainer balance remaining at the end of the year will be refunded to you or, by agreement, carried over for use next year.

At this point, we hope that we will be able to cover in the above budget our routine expenses, such as normal telephone calls, telexes, xeroxing and taxi fare. However, if it is necessary to expend larger sums on such items as large mailings or long-distance travel, etc., we probably will not be able to cover them from the retainer payments and will consult with you about separate arrangements to cover them.

If this letter properly summarizes our agreement, I would appreciate it if you would sign the enclosed copy and return it to me for our files.

With cordial regards,

Sincerely yours,

1327-

Robert Herzstein
